

Good things to know

Emergencies

Hospitality and hack suite

Game nights (Friday and Sunday)

FUDPub (Saturday)

Blogging

If you are writing blog posts about FUDCon, we welcome you to join us on Fedora Planet. Adding your blog to Planet requires a FAS account that has signed the CLA and is approved for one additional group. If you are new to Fedora but know someone who would be willing to add your blog to Planet, ask them.

If you were sponsored to come to FUDCon, we request that you write at least one blog post for Planet.

planet.fedoraproject.org
How to join: ur1.ca/2rwbu

Microblogging

Microblogging is one of the best ways to promote FUDCon and receive timely updates from event organizers and attendees. Use the hashtag #fudcon, which can be monitored from your favorite microblogging client.

IRC channels

Our main IRC channel on Freenode is #fedora-fudcon. If you are transcribing a session, please report the session name and IRC channel to the main channel. If you are using Gobby or EtherPad in your hackfest, please make a note of this in the main channel as well.